The Requirement

Candidates on the Journey Toward the Order of Ministry as a Commissioned or Ordained Minister who are under the care of the Commission on Clergy of the Christian Church in Oklahoma will participate in the Incare program. This will typically involve a minimum of one Incare interview annually, during preparation/candidacy. The candidate will meet with members of the Commission on Clergy. The process will typically culminate in a Commissioning or Ordination Council. This Handbook describes the purpose and procedures of the Incare program.

The Purpose

The Incare program provides opportunities for both support and evaluation of those on the Journey Toward the Order of Ministry. The Commission on Clergy is charged with the responsibility of evaluating the candidate in relationship to the ten Personal Qualifications for Ministry, the last of which is “skills and abilities necessary for the rigorous, pastoral tasks of ministry”, that is the sixteen Areas of Ministerial Practice. The aim of the Commission is to be supportive of the candidate as the individual seeks to grow personally and professionally during the course of their preparation for Commissioning or Ordination.

For the “Personal Qualifications for the Order of Ministry and the Sixteen Areas of Ministerial Practice” see pp. 31-33 and pp. 34-37 or Theological Foundations for the Ordering of Ministry in the Christian Church (Disciples of Christ) p. 16 and 19-21 (download at disciples.org/gcom/)

Basic Principles

1. Evaluation and Assessment of “a candidate’s personal qualifications, skills and abilities” will be an ongoing process throughout candidacy.
2. Skills and abilities will be assessed as the candidate has sufficient education and/or experience to develop a level of competency in each area.
3. As much as possible assessment will be based on actual ministerial practice.
4. Information will be gathered both from the candidate and from other persons and communities who have knowledge of the candidate.
5. The candidate is expected to take the initiative and responsibility for providing all materials and information requested by the commission.
6. Each candidate is expected to have different profiles of strength and growing edges.
7. The aim of the Incare program is the promotion of growth. It will be helpful to ask “How consistently does this person display any particular characteristic?” rather than “Does this person display this or that characteristic?”

The Incare Committee

Each Incare committee typically has three members. The members of each committee are persons presently serving on the Commission on Clergy and other persons recruited by the chair of the Commission. The candidate may be accompanied in the interview by a person of his/her choice.

Typical Number of Incare Interviews

The procedures outlined in this Handbook assume that a candidate will have four (4) Incare interviews and one (1) Commissioning or Ordination Council. This pattern may be amended by action of the Commission on Clergy to address the particular situation of any given candidate.

Variations from the Normal Procedures

Each candidate will have a unique history, call to ministry, and life circumstance. Variations will need to be made from time to time to address the particular situation of any given candidate. When this occurs, the pattern set forth here may be amended by action of the Commission on Clergy. The following are four typical circumstances calling for adjustment to normal procedures.

1. Candidacy lasts more than four (4) years.
 - Possible adjustment: Repeat the procedure for Interview Two, then Interview Three, then Interview Four as needed.
2. Candidacy lasts less than four (4) years.
 - Possible adjustments:
 - If this seems likely from the beginning, Interviews Two and Three may be combined.
 - If this is known late in the process, the Interview Four essays can be added to the requirements for the Commissioning or Ordination Council, or an additional interview can be scheduled in the same year.
3. Candidate has been previously commissioned in another Region.
 - Possible adjustments: Interview Four and a Commissioning Council.
4. Candidate has been previously ordained by another denomination.
 - Possible adjustment: Interview Four to ensure grounding in the Christian Church (Disciples of Christ). An Ordination Council as deemed appropriate.

The Journey Toward Ministry Plan

Upon receipt and review of all application materials, an interview will be scheduled with a Regional Minister. During this interview a Journey Toward Ministry Plan will be completed, including a recommendation as to the appropriate education track for the candidate. This will be reported to the Commission on Clergy for action.

For information on the Oklahoma Commission on Clergy and its responsibilities in the Commissioning and Ordination process, see pages 9 and 10 in The Journey Toward The Order of Ministry booklet.

A sample of a Journey Toward Ministry Plan may be found on the following page. It is for illustration only. The form may be found in Appendix Three of this Incare Handbook.

Disciples of Christ Identity Statement and Principles

Introduction

Who do we say that we are? Identity is a vital concern for all parts of the church. Many long-time Disciples worry that we may be losing crucial characteristics of our common life. New Disciples want to know about the distinctive gifts of this community of faith. All of us need to have clarity about who we are in order to be faithful and effective witnesses to Jesus Christ.

A church's identity must be firmly rooted in scripture and yet flexible enough to adapt to changes in culture and the shifting demands of mission. Early Christians in Jerusalem had to learn what it meant to be faithful in Antioch and Rome. The forebears of the Christian Church (Disciples of Christ), as they moved from the frontier to the city, had to rethink such matters as congregational autonomy and the goal of "restoring" the New Testament church. Today, we wrestle with what it means to be disciples of our Lord in a world that is increasingly pluralistic, globally connected, and yet so often violently divided.

And so, we offer a succinct statement of identity, under girded by twelve distinct principles of what it means to be Disciples of Christ.

Statement of Identity

We are Disciples of Christ, a movement for wholeness in a fragmented world. As part of the one body of Christ, we welcome all to the Lord's Table as God has welcomed us.

Principles of Identity

1. We confess that Jesus is the Christ, the Son of the Living God, and proclaim him Lord and Savior of the world, requiring nothing more - and nothing less - as a basis of our life together.
2. We hold the centrality of scripture, recognizing that each person has the freedom - and the responsibility - to study God's Word within the community of the church.
3. We practice the baptism of believers, which emphasizes that God's grace demands a response of faith and discipleship, while also recognizing the baptism performed in other churches.
4. We gather for the Lord's Supper, as often as possible, experiencing at this table the gracious, forgiving presence of Jesus Christ.

5. We structure our community around the biblical idea of covenant, emphasizing not obedience to human authority but accountability to one another because of our shared obedience to Christ.
6. We participate in God's mission for the world, working with partners to heal the brokenness of creation and bring justice and peace to the whole human family.
7. We hear a special calling to make visible the unity of all Christians, proclaiming that in our diversity we belong to one another because we commonly belong to Christ.
8. We witness to the Gospel of God's saving love for the world in Jesus Christ, while continuing to struggle with how God's love may be known to others in different ways.
9. We affirm the priesthood of all believers, rejoicing in the gifts of the Holy Spirit - which include the gift of leadership - that God has given for the common good.
10. We celebrate the diversity of our common life, affirming our different histories, styles of worship, and forms of service.
11. We give thanks that each congregation, where Christ is present through faith, is truly the church, affirming as well that God's church and God's mission stretch from our doorsteps to the ends of the earth.
12. We anticipate God's coming reign, seeking to serve the God - Creator, Redeemer, and Sustainer - whose loving dominion has no end.
